Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about concentration camps.

Your persecution of immigrants is revolting with its focus is on arbitrary performative cruelty. The targets do not appear to matter so long as there are numbers, articles and - most importantly - video of abuse. One Chicago lawsuit documents warrantless arrests and injuries to bystanders. Some of the people just flown to El Salvador directly violating a court order are upstanding refugees with no criminal background. The operation netted horrific articles about the conditions there, gleeful quotes about ignoring and impeaching Judge Boasberg and videos of abuse. The haphazard treatment of those dumped in Panama also served no purpose beyond news on your inhumanity. You have publicized ramping up infamous prisons at Guantanamo and - for families - in Los Fresnos Texas. A nation desensitized to such atrocities is primed for genocide.

Please assure me that you will release all noncriminals.

My pride in the US derives in part from the rule of law.

Sincerely,

Eric Babson
